

(601/4570/5) RSL Level 1 Certificate in Business for Music Practitioners (QCF)

Overview

This qualification is designed for learners wishing to build a basic knowledge and skill base in business practice within the sphere of the UK music industry. The qualification will allow learners to gain understanding of general principles of music business structures and roles within the music industry, corporate identity and career development. It will provide opportunities to develop skills in business and finance, marketing, promotion, music event lighting and event management. It will also give learners an underpinning knowledge and skill set within associated areas such as health & safety and listening to music.

In undertaking this qualification, learners can acquire

- understanding of their own skill set to identify appropriate potential areas for employment
- understanding of the structure of the UK Music Industry
- understanding of marketing and promotional processes
- experience of planning and promoting a music event
- understanding of the processes involved in the sale of music in the UK music industry
- knowledge of the relationship between key elements of music and emotional responses to it
- knowledge of how to set up, use and dismantle a lighting rig
- understanding of health and safety policy and procedures in relation to managing music events

The knowledge and skills acquired by learners undertaking this course will enable learners to progress in to further studies designed to provide a deeper knowledge and/or greater aptitude for applying business skills in a range of situations and associated requirements related to being effective in business in the UK music industry. For example, learners may progress to a RSL Level 2 or Level 3 qualification for Music Practitioners or a GCSE in Music or Performing Arts.
